NON-FORMAL TRAINING

United Nations Alliance of Civilizations – Madrid, Rabat, Cairo, and Doha, October 2017

The UNAOC Fellowship (EUNA Fellow): launched in 2010 with the aim building bridges between cultures and societies through dialogue and cooperation, and reinforcing the global commitment to live together in mutual tolerance and respect. Fellows are exposed to diversity and experiences of cultural immersion, while interacting with a wide range of local actors and partners in various countries of North Africa and Middle East.<sup>6</sup>

Queen Mary University of London – London and Edinburgh, February-March 2016

The British-Bosnian Fellowship of the British Embassy in BiH: a flagship initiative aimed at identifying future leaders across a number of sectors in BiH and providing them with a broad range of skills and experience. The program develops existing leadership and personal impact skills. It broadens understanding of how policy is developed and implemented in the UK, within a devolved system of government, and in conjunction with non-governmental players and the media.

Humanity in Action USA – Washington and Paris, May-June 2014

The Diplomacy and Diversity Fellowship: non-accredited series of educational policy seminars with leaders in government, business, nonprofits and media. The program's guiding mission is to increase awareness of the importance of diversity in diplomacy and other international fields and to encourage and sustain the careers of professionals from minority backgrounds in foreign affairs.

University of Zurich – Zurich, August 2013

Fellowship on Challenges of Democracy in Multicultural Societies Capacity Building for Future Decision Makers and Opinion Leaders, with a particular focus on BiH and Switzerland, organized in cooperation with Centre for Democracy Studies in Aarau.
